

Street Feast is the national day of street parties & community celebrations.

This year it takes place on Sunday 11th June!

Street Feast is an Irish initiative to bring back life onto our streets. The idea is a simple one - to get as many people as possible across Ireland to sit down to a lunch with their neighbours in their local communities. It's a not-for-profit, all-for-fun, do-it-yourself celebration.

A Street Feast can be anything from a few neighbours getting together in a front garden to a full-blown community street party. They can be held anywhere; on the pavement, in a laneway or a local park. Everyone is invited to bring something to contribute, be it a tasty dish, some chairs or a musical instrument.

It's the 8th year of Street Feast. In 2016, 120,000 neighbours took part in 1,215 Street Feasts!

The Street Feast organisation supports individuals and community groups to host their own celebration. This year we're posting out free party packs to Street Feast hosts.

Each free party pack contains a handy guide to help make your feast a success, as well as posters, invitations, balloons and bunting to help you get the party started!
