An Post unveils St. Patrick's Festival stamp set

An Post has issued a set of four colourful stamps to mark the St Patrick's Festival and the national holiday which honours the feast day (March 17th) of our patron saint, St. Patrick.

The stamps showcase the theme of this year's festival of Irish arts, culture and heritage in Dublin city centre. 'Adventures (Eachtra)' represents the famed and legendary adventures that have inspired and loved the world wide as a defining symbol of Irishness. The stamps were recently unveiled by Ministers Patrick O'Donovan and Charlie McConlogue at the GPO. The stamp also acknowledges a generation's long tradition of St Patrick's Day being marked by local events and parades all over the country, including Dublin's iconic St Patrick's Day Parade, when thousands perform and as many as half a million people line the streets of the capital city to view the spectacle. The Irish public knows very well the story of St Patrick banishing snakes from Ireland. Today the image of a snake has become integral to St Patrick's Festival. Creative design incorporates the snake into a set of four stamps capturing the Culture, Communications, Media and Sport, Patrick O'Donovan TD said "I welcome An Post issuing a set of stamps to mark the St. Patrick's Festival, our national holiday. The stamp programme and design are the culmination of a lot of hard work throughout the year by An Post philatelic colleagues working through numerous suggestions and design proposals. I was delighted to be able to bring these designs to Government for their approval, and we all thank An Post for the beautiful designs we see on show here today."

Minister of State with responsibility for Sport and Postal Policy, Charlie McConlogue TD said "It's an An Post for the wonderful Stamp design for St. Patrick's Day, incorporating the wider St. Patrick's Festival, which will be a week-long celebration of Irish Culture and Heritage. The stamp is a fitting accompaniment to the festival, with the artwork recognising a piece of myths in Irish tradition. An Post's design helps celebrate our ancient heritage and culture in a modern way through contemporary arts."

Kieran Mulvey, Chairperson of An Post said "We are delighted to issue St. Patrick's Festival stamps for our customers to use and enjoy ahead of St. Patrick's Day. We know that many families and friends will post cards and care parcels to loved ones living abroad who might be missing a taste of home right about now. In the lead up to our national holiday, I encourage everyone to get your stamps and get posting. Our stamps and latest dates of posting for delivery worldwide are on anpost.co.uk. Richard Tierney, CEO of St. Patrick's Festival said "We are delighted with the launch of this beautiful new stamp selection by An Post, available ahead of the Festival celebrations this March 15th, 16th & 17th. We know how important the festival is to our Irish diaspora all over the world and so feel extremely privileged that St. Patrick's Festival will be involved in commemorations across the globe this March, as people near and far celebrate our annual day."

1. Hi guys,

What an amazing weekend once again. Thank you so much. Our friends are all excited about next year already.
We loved David Holmes so much, is it possible to stream his set from anywhere?

2. Hi Sean,

Many thanks for organising tickets, thoroughly enjoyed a fantastic festival.
Well done to all involved.

3. Hi Seán,

Thanks for a well organised event, no major sound, traffic or security issues. The tickets being issued last minute by email was really annoying. Hopefully this can be sorted for 2025.

4. Hi Sean,

Great weekend, no traffic or security issues on the lane. A very well organised event. Thanks for everything.

5. Hi Sean,

Thank you for the complimentary tickets. We had a wonderful time at the festival.

6. Hi Seán,

Just a quick Thank you for the tickets to Beyond The Pale.
A great weekend, Well Done to all involved.

7. Hi Sean,

We could hear the sound slightly up in Lough dán, no major traffic issues which was great – security were really nice and helpful.

8. Hi Seán,

The event was well run, the only major issue was the last-minute tickets being sent by email. This was a real mess and needs to be sorted for 2025.

9. Hi Seán,

Thanks for requesting our views. Sound could be heard slightly up by us at the top road of the estate but traffic and security were good. Can you please sort out the last-minute tickets being sent by email which were only sent 30 minutes before the event started. This was really frustrating.

Special Area of Conservation
 This is an area of special conservation within the site boundaries. This is a narrow road to the main car park. The existing rubble roadway passes through this and it accounts for approx 80% of existing tree canopy. Patrons do not have free access to access the S.A.C. area. When the park is open the gate will be closed and will be open only on the days of the event. Traditionally over the years of the event patrons do not enter the S.A.C. area and stay on the highway.
 The festival is proposing that signage will be positioned each side of the roadway at 20 metre intervals along the 310 metre route as below.
